D. APPLETON & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

The Principles of Ethics.

Vol. I.

By HERBERT SPENCER. Including (Part I.) "The Data of Ethics;" (Part II.) "The Inductions of Ethics;" (Part III.) "The Ethics of Individual Life." 12mo. cloth, $2.00.

The first part of this volume was published separately some years ago. The author having finished the second and third parts, all are now issued in one book under the above title, changed from "The Principles of Morality" previously used. The binding is uniform with the various other volumes included in the author's system of "Synthetic Philosophy."

For convenience of those who have already purchased Part I., Parts II. and III. are bound together in a separate volume; price, $1.25.

An Englishman in Paris.

Notes and Recollections. In 2 vols., 12mo, cloth, $4.50.

"A delightful book about Paris of the immediate past, one of the liveliest it has been our good fortune to read. The author is an Englishman, who lived in the French capital off and on or continuously for a period which we have roughly estimated at forty years. . . . For private reasons he will not give us his name, though he assures us that, if it were known, it would inspire the reader with confidence. Nobody wants his name, if he will allow us to say so. What he has written, in its fascinating anecdotes, is its own sufficient recommendation. It is all well-informed gossip about famous men, women and events, from cover to cover."—London Daily News.

The Historical Reference-Book.

Comprising a Chronological Table of Universal History, a Chronological Dictionary of Universal History, a Biographical Dictionary. With geographical notes. For the use of students, teachers and readers. By LOUIS HEILPRIN. Third edition, revised. Crown 8vo, half leather, $3.00.

"We miss hardly anything that we should consider desirable, and we have not been able to detect a single mistake or misprint."—New York Nation.

Ethan Allen.

THE ROBIN HOOD OF VERMONT. By HENRY HALL. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

The aim of the author has been to depict Allen's personality, and to throw some new light upon the character of one who has been often violently assailed. Allen's own letters have been freely drawn upon. The mass of material which has been examined has included matter not utilized before.

The Hope of the Gospel.

By GEORGE MACDONALD, author of "Unspoken Sermons," "Robert Falconer," etc. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

At a time when there is so much inquiry and unrest among thinking people, the frank discussions and strong arguments of this book will be especially pertinent and helpful.

Footsteps of Fate.

By LOUIS COUPERUS, author of "Eline Vere." Translated from the Dutch by Clara Bell. With an introduction by Edmund Gosse. Holland Fiction Series. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

"'Eline Vere' is a vivacious and skilful performance, giving an evidently faithful picture of society, and evincing the art of a true story-teller."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

"La Bella" and Others.

By EGERTON CASTLE, author of "Consequences." No. 95, Town and Country Library. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

"The author is gifted with a lively fancy, and the clever plots he has devised gain greatly in interest, thanks to the unfamiliar surroundings in which the action for the most part takes place."—London Literary World.

Jean de Kerdren.

By the author of "Colette" and "Straight On." No. 97, Town and Country Library. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

"The love-story of the two young persons is told with the utmost simplicity and freshness, and with an intensity of interest with which mere literary skill seems to have little to do. It gives throughout the impression of a faithful rendering of reality. . . . The core of the story is sound and sweet, and will determine the impression for all healthy readers, to whom we cordially recommend it."—New York Times.

A Little Norsk; or, Ol' Pap's Flaxen.

By HAMLIN GARLAND, author of "Main Travelled Roads," etc. Appletons' Summer Series. 16mo. With novel, specially designed cover and ornamented edges, 50 cents.

"Recent American fiction can show nothing better than Mr. Garland's work."—Chicago Times.

A Tale of Twenty-Five Hours.

By BRANDER MATTHEWS and GEORGE H. JESSOP. Appletons' Summer Series. 16mo, with novel, specially designed cover and ornamented edges, 50 cents.

An ingenious and entertaining novelette by two clever and well-known story-writers.

A Thorny Path. (Per Aspera.)

By GEORG EBERS, author of "Uarda," "An Egyptian Princess," etc. Two volumes, 16mo, cloth, $1.50.

NOTES IN SEASON.

LEE & SHEPARD have in preparation a third volume of the speeches of Wendell Phillips, prepared by Theodore C. Pease.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. will begin in September a new edition of Bulwer's works in forty volumes, each provided with a frontispiece designed by E. H. Garrett.

JAMES J. CHAPMAN, 915 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C., will publish, August 15, McPherson's "Handbook of Politics" for 1892. It will cover the proceedings of the second session of the last Congress (51st), and the first session of the present Congress (52d), and will give the final facts as to every pending public measure passed upon since the publication of the "Handbook of Politics" for 1890.

D. APPLETON & Co. have just ready a work entitled "An Englishman in Paris" [reported in England to have been written by Sir Richard Wallace], which gives an intimate and most entertaining series of pictures of life in Paris during the reigns of Louis Philippe and Louis Napoleon. It contains personal reminiscences of the old Latin Quarter, the Revolution of 1848, the coup d'état, society, art, and letters during the Third Empire, the siege of Paris, and the reign of the Commune. The author enjoyed the acquaintance of most of the celebrities of this time; and he describes Balzac, Alfred de Musset, Sue, the elder Dumas, Taglioni, Flaubert, Auber, Félicien David, Delacroix, Horace Vernet, Decamps, Guizot, Thiers and many others, whose appearance in these pages is the occasion for fresh and interesting anecdotes.

SILVER, BURDETT & Co. have just ready "The Revisers' Greek Text," a most valuable critical work on the New Testament, on which the Rev. S. W. Whitney has been at work since the publication of the Revised New Testament. It is an examination of the manuscripts on which the revisers based their translations, some of which Mr. Whitney contends were accepted as authentic on very insufficient evidence. The work is intended for the general reader, and copious translations of all Greek terms enable those interested, even when not expert Greek scholars, to gain valuable and most interesting information. The book has been characterized as an "honor to American scholarship" by a prominent Biblical scholar. It may be safe to say that no critical work on the New Testament has appeared within the last decade calculated to create a deeper or more general interest among Bible students at large than this work promises to awaken. It is issued in two handsome twelvemo volumes and is provided with an excellent index.

HARPER & BROTHERS are about to publish a new volume in the English Men of Letters series "Carlyle," written by Professor John Nicol, author of "Byron," in the same series. They are also about to publish F. D. Miller's "The Danube: from the Black Forest to the Black Sea," the record of a canoe voyage of 1775 miles, made in the summer of 1890, through Germany, Austria, Hungary, Servia, Bulgaria, Roumania and Russia, to be illustrated from drawings made during the voyage by Alfred Parsons and Mr. Millet; D. Christie Murray's latest story, "Time's Revenges;" also, a new illustrated novel, entitled "That Wild Wheel," by Frances Eleanor Trollope, whose stories have won much praise for their originality of design, their skilful characterization and the genuine flavor of the humor with which they are enlivened. An interesting volume by Julian Ralph, "On Canada's Frontier," will also soon be issued from the press of Harper & Brothers. The recent rapid development of the vast western portion of the Dominion, and the increased attention which is being directed to that region will give to this work a special value and timeliness. Mr. Ralph's information regarding the present condition and remarkable resources of the great Northwest is derived at first hand and from personal observation, while his narrative of experiences with the Indian tribes and his sketches of hunting adventures in the Canadian forests have all the interest of romance.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no prices, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (2mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tf. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

*Alexander, W. D. Brief history of the Hawaiian people. N. Y., American Book Co., 1892. 341 p. 8°, cl., $1.50.

The editor of the Christian Register views the ethnological, climatic and economic aspects of the race problem. He gives a mass of facts. He believes the two races will eventually get on perfectly well together, whether they are blended in one person or race, or separated into two. He believes education can alone work out the present difficulties, and that the intelligent and refined men of both races will agree together. There was some discussion of the lecture before the Brooklyn Ethical Association, and its substance is shortly stated.

*Benjamin, Judah P. Treatise on the law of sale of personal property; with the American law in the form of a monographic note (appended to each chapter.) New Amer. ed., reprinted from the latest English ed.; ed. by Arthur Beilby Pearson-Gee and Hugh Fenwick Boyd, and newly ed. and rev. by Edmund H. Bennett. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1892. 8° shp., net, $6.

Burt, Mary E. Story of the German Iliad: a school reader for the sixth and seventh grades. N. Y., Effingham Maynard & Co., 1892. c. 2-119 p. il. D. cl., 50 c.

The story of the Nibelungen Lied rendered in simple English prose.

Bush, G. Gary. History of higher education in Massachusetts. Wash., D. C., Government Print. Office, 1891 [1892.] 2-445 p. il. O. (Bureau of Education, Circular of information, no. 6.) pap., n. p.

The present series of "Contributions to American Educational History," to which this monograph belongs, is the outgrowth of an organized inquiry concerning the study of history in American colleges and universities, instituted as early as 1885, by Gen. J. Eaton. The monograph embraces a history of Harvard College, Williams College, Andover Theological Seminary, Amherst College, Tufts College, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Boston University and other higher educational institutions.

Byington, Edwin Hallock. Open-air preaching: a practical manual for pastors, evangelists and other Christian workers. Hartford, Ct., Hartford Theological Seminary, 1892. 104 p. il. O., cl., 75 c.; pap., 50 c.

A treatise on the history, the necessity and the methods of open-air preaching as a part of Christian work in both city and country. A résumé is given of the open-air preaching from the earliest Christian age to the present time. The writer is assistant minister of the Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn, N. Y. Dr. A. F. Schauffler furnishes an introduction.

*California. Supreme ct. Reports of cases; C. P. Pomeroy, rep. V. 92, [1891-92.] San Francisco, Bancroft-Whitney Co., 1892. c. 31+751 p. O. shp., $3.50.

Cameron, Mrs. H. Lovett. A daughter's heart. Phil., J. B. Lippincott Co., 1892. c. '91. 251 p. D. (Lippincott's ser. of select novels, no. 135.) pap., 50 c.

At his mother's request Sir Jasper Keith seeks a wife in the family of the Meyricks of Raybourne. He is accepted by the older daughter, a beautiful but rather stupid blond, who is marrying him for his position and fortune; but he afterwards falls seriously in love with the younger daughter who, though not a beauty, is bright and attractive. The complications which arise, and the mother's attempts to crush the younger girl's romance and to give to the elder one all the good things of life, make the story.

Cameron, Mrs. H. Lovett. Proved unworthy. N. Y., G. Munro, [United States Book Co., 1892.] 250 p. D. (Seaside lib., no. 1901.) pap., 25 c.

* In this list, the titles generally are verbatim transcriptions (according to the rule of the American Library Association) from books received. Books not received are indicated by a prefixed asterisk, and this office cannot be held responsible for the correctness of their record.

Castle, Egerton. "La Bella," and others: being certain stories recollected. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. 3-320 p. D. (Appleton's town and country lib., no. 95.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Eight short stories, which, with but two exceptions, have been published at different periods in annuals and magazines: La Bella, an incident of the fencing floor; The Renommist; The baron's quarry: The son of chaos; A new sensation: Chaloner's best man; A paragraph in the Globe; Master Huldebrand.

Conklin, Mrs. Nathl. [formerly Jennie M. Drinkwater.] Dorothy's Islands. Bost., Bradley & Woodruff, [1892.] c. 3-435 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

Dorothy's islands were near the mouth of the Kennebec River, and her home was a lighthouse. Here she conceived a fanciful idea about discovering islands even more to her liking than the one on which she lived. The story tells also some incidents of Dorothy's grown-up life, notably the disposition she made of her fortune.

Coolidge, Erwin L. A Maine girl: a realistic romance of Down East. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham, 1892. c. '91. 7-199 p. D. pap., 50 c.

*Cox, Rowland. A manual of trade-mark cases: comprising Sebastian's digest of trade-mark cases, covering all the cases reported prior to 1879, together with those of a leading character decided since that time; with notes and references by Rowland Cox. 2d ed., rev. and brought down to the present time: with fac-similes of many trade-marks. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1892. 8°, shp., net, $6.

*Craig, Alethe L. Women of the world: with a search-light of epigram. Balt., Md., printed for the author, by H. W. Dick & Co., 1891 [1892.] 191 p. 16°, cl., $1.

*Curzon, G. N. Persia and the Persian question. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 2 v., 24+639; 12+653 p. maps, pl. il. 8°, cl., $12.

Dana, R. H. The practical working of the Australian system of voting in Massachusetts. Phil., American Acad. of Political and Social Science, [1892.] 18 p. O. (Publications of the American Acad. of Pol. and Social Science, no. 55.) pap., 50 c.

Davies, F. Temperance drinks for summer and winter: a book of recipes for palatable and refreshing draughts for the hot and cold seasons of the year. N. Y., Ward, Lock, Bowden & Co., 1892. 6+121 p. S. cl., 50 c.

Contents: Fresh fruit syrups; Miscellaneous syrups; Cordials; Fruit and other syrups from essences; British wines; Fermenting drinks; Effervescing drinks; Summer drinks made with syrups or cordials; Aerated beverages, bottle and fountain; Aerated drinks, syrups made from essences; Mineral waters; Unfermented bottled beers; Hot drinks for winter season.

Davis, J. E. Bellevue: a story of the south. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham, 1892. c. '88. 4-349 p. D. pap., 50 c.

Day on the river (A). N. Y., Ward, Lock, Bowden & Co., [1892.] unsp. col. il. pap., 20 c.

Large colored pictures and texts in large type illustrate a day on the Thames.

*Deland, Margaret. Sidney: a novel. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1892. 16°, (River-side pap. ser., no. 47.) pap., 50 c.

Denison, Mrs. M. A. The Frenchman's ward. N. Y., Seaside Pub. Co., [1892.] 4-212 p. D. (Rugby lib., no. 4.) pap., 10 c.

*Dodge, Ja. Modern French artillery. N. Y., J. Wiley & Sons, 1892. 458 p. 4°, hf. mor., $20.

Dorland, W. A. Newman, M.D., comp. A cluster of pearls for Christian Endeavor workers. Bost., D. Lothrop Co., [1892.] c. '92. 2+212 p. S. cl., 75 c.

Clusters of quotations suitable for enforcing the vital truths of prayer, humility, love, faith, consecration and service, providence and mercy, peace, gentleness, penitence, reverence, purity, charity, patience, constancy, obedience and many other noble qualities which the Society of Christian Endeavor labors to spread throughout mankind.

Doyle, A. Conan. The doings of Raffles Haw, [and other stories.] N. Y., Lovell, Coryell & Co., [1892.] c. '91. 199 p. D. (Belmore ser., no. 5.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Raffles Haw, by the discovery of a chemical secret, is able to transmute lead into gold and to command a magnificence of wealth which Monte Cristo might envy. He is eager to benefit humanity, to relieve misery—above all to be loved for himself only. One by one his illusions are dispelled, he sees the shallow avarice of those whose affection he had thought secure, and by his final act he casts down the hopes he had unwittingly raised, and keeps his secret intact forever. Two short stories follow: The redheaded league; The Boscombe Valley mystery.

*Dulcken, H. W. Pictures of London; with short descriptions. N. Y., Ward, Lock, Bowden & Co., 1892. col. il. 4°, pap., 50 c.

Ebers, G. Moritz. A thorny path, (per aspera); from the German, by Clara Bell. N. Y., Appleton, 1891. c. 2 v., 373; 362 p. S. cl., $1.50; pap., 80 c.

The turbulent city of Alexandria during the visit of Caracalla, A.D. 214, is the scene of a story in which the fierce emperor plays a leading part. Melissa, the charming daughter of an old gem-cutter, seeks from Cæsar the pardon of her father and brother, and becomes the object of a delusion on the part of the half-mad Caracalla. He determines to raise her to his side as empress, but Melissa is already betrothed and shrinks with horror from the dangerous honor. She resolves to test Cæsar's love and abide by the result. Her action leads her from thorny paths to peace and happiness, but is a link in the chain of events which culminates in the fearful and historic massacre—Caracalla's bloody vengeance on the fair city of Alexandria. Galen, Philostatus and other historic characters are introduced, and the life of the people—the pleasures, sorrows, terrors and beliefs of that stormy age—is painted with color and power.

Edwards, Mrs. Annie. A vagabond heroine: a novel. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham, 1892. 6-236 p. D. (Madison sq. ser.) pap., 25 c.

Eichbaum, F. A. G. The preacher's scrap-book: a collection of 424 short stories and pithy sayings for the use of busy clergy and teachers. Milwaukee, Wis., The Young Churchman Co., 1892. 6+244 p. D. cl., net, $1.

The "scraps" are drawn from a variety of sources, and the compiler has specially avoided well-known stories.

Gaboriau, Emile. Monsieur Lecoq; from the French. V. 1. N. Y., Seaside Pub. Co., [1892.] 350 p. D. (Lovell's detective ser., no. 27.) pap., 25 c.

Garland, Hamlin. A little Norsk; or, ol' Pap's Flaxen. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. c. 5+157 p. S. bds., 50 c.

A story of every-day Western life, its hardships, anxieties and pleasures. Boomtown, Dakota, is the scene of the blizzard which leaves the "little Norsk" an orphan and leads to her adoption by the two rough men who take the child from her dead mother's arms. "Flaxen" they call her. She becomes the object of their hopes and plans, and the story of her development from childhood to happy womanhood is told with varying pathos and humor.

*Gentry, T. G. Family names from the Irish, Anglo-Saxon, Anglo-Norman and Scotch:

considered in relation to their etymology; with brief remarks on the history and languages of the peoples to whom we are indebted for their origin. [Phil., J. B. Lipincott Co., 1892.] 8°, cl., $2.50.

Gilman, Stella, (pseud.) That Dakota girl. N. Y., United States Book Co., [1892.] c. 2-240 p. D. cl., $1.25.

"Ranch-to-rest-in," on the Dakota prairies, is the scene of a pretty love-story containing somewhat idealized descriptions of Western life and scenery. "That Dakota girl" is an attractive little person with an Eastern lover and a Western lover, and though one of the rivals must perforce lose the prize, the dénouement is quite satisfactory.

Gilmore, Minnie. A son of Esau. N. Y., Lovell, Coryell & Co., [1892.] c. 6+353 p. por. D. cl., $1.25.

The son of Esau, Steele Harriman, sold his birthright of an honorable name and high ideals for success in speculations and association with pleasure-seekers of all kinds. The scene is a thriving Colorado town. His wife's faithful love and far-reaching sympathies finally right many of the wrongs he has committed. The pushing life in our Western settlements is well drawn.

Grandgent, C. H. German and English sounds. Bost., Ginn & Co., 1892. c. 6+42 p. D. (International modern language ser.) cl., 55 c.

Contains a detailed study of two individual dialects of interest to phoneticians, and also a guide to learners of German or English pronunciation. The English presented is Prof. Grandgent's, formed in and near Boston, the German that of Dr. R. Höchdörfer, now Professor of Modern Languages at Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio.

Green, Anna Katharine, [now Mrs. Rohlf.] Cynthia Wakeham's money. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1892. c. 4+336 p. il. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

A telegram received by a New York lawyer, asking him to come without delay to Flatbush, L. I., to make the will of Cynthia Wakeham, starts a characteristic story by the author of "The Leavenworth case." The lawyer's search for the woman's heirs is rich in mysteries and horrors. The heroine is an exquisitely beautiful woman with a strange scar on her face, who almost falls a victim to the unreasoning hatred of her father and uncle.

Hall, H. Ethan Allen, the Robin Hood of Vermont. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. c. 7+207 p. D. cl., $1.

Ethan Allen's cool audacity, the daring raids of his outlawed band of "Green Mountain Boys," his capture of Ticonderoga—all the eventful episodes of his career justly earn for him the title of the "Robin Hood of Vermont." The author's purpose throughout has been to present "a fuller life of Allen than has yet been written, and singling him from that cluster of sturdy patriots in the New Hampshire Grants, to make plain the vivid personality of a Vermont hero to the younger generations." The work was left unfinished in 1889 by the author's death, and has been completed by his daughter, Henrietta Hall Boardman.

Pt. 2, Western Canada; incl. the peninsular and northern regions of Ontario, the Canadian shores of the great lakes, the Lake of the Woods region, Manitoba and the "Great Northwest," the Canadian Rocky Mountains and National Park, British Columbia and Vancouver's Island. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. c. 8+261 p. map, il. D. cl., $1.25.

Part 1, "Eastern Canada," was recorded in P. W., "Weekly Record," July 11, 1891, [1015.] under Roberts, C. G. D. Ernest Ingersoll's reputation as naturalist, traveller and author is security for the trustworthy character and literary attractiveness of the text. The book is of a size and shape easily carried, and is full of illustrations and useful maps.

Irwin, J. A., M.D. Hydrotherapy at Saratoga: a treatise on natural mineral waters. N. Y., Cassell Pub. Co., [1892.] c. 10+270 p. por. S. pap., 50 c.

Offers a correct and unprejudiced valuation of mineral waters generally, and those of Saratoga in particular. Contains chapters on: The origin of mineral waters; Geological conditions at Saratoga; Classification and analysis of mineral waters; Component parts of the Saratoga waters; Metabolism and alterative effects; Balneology; or, the science of bathing; Therapeutic applicability and dietetics; Nosology.

Jacobson, A: An ounce of prevention to save America from having a government of the few, by the few, and for the few. Chic., C: H. Kerr & Co., 1892. c. 8-251 p. D. pap., 50 c.

On current problems in American politics Mr. Jacobson takes the ground that the rapid accumulation of large fortunes is a menace to the future of the republic, and he therefore advocates the imposition of a succession tax on all large fortunes that are inherited. With this tax he also advocates a thorough system of public manual training schools, the money for which should be furnished by the tax just described. He also proposes to compensate parents for their children's time, where the parents are so poor that they cannot spare their children to go to school.

First published in 1855 by Moore, Wiltach, Keys & Co. About two years ago Dr. King, feeling his work needed revision, entrusted this labor to his successor to the chair of Obstetrics in the Eclectic Medical Institute of Cincinnati. Numerous additions have been made to every chapter. Especial attention is called to the treatment of the diseases of pregnancy, specific medication being substituted for the old style of prescribing. The work, it is claimed, is now fully up to date in all scientific discoveries.

Kipling, Rudyard. Barrack-room ballads and other verses; with departmental ditties. N. Y., United States Book Co., [1892.] 3+270 p. D. (Strathmore ser., no. 3.) cl., $1.25; pap., 50 c.

See notice, "Weekly Record," P. W., Dec. 6, 1890, [984.]

Lewis, G: History of Battery E, First Regiment Rhode Island Light Artillery in the war of 1861 and 1865 to preserve the Union. Providence, R. I., Snow & Farnham, prs., [for sale by the author, G: Lewis, 238 Broadway, Providence, R. I.] 1892. c. '91. 11+540 p. por. map. O. cl., $2.50.

Battery E was organized in September, 1861, and remained in service until June, 1865. The honorable part borne by Battery E in the Army of the Potomac is related with much pride by Mr. Lewis, who was a member of the battery. The picture given of the private side of soldier life is both pathetic and amusing. Contains a complete roster of the battery, besides an appendix giving some valuable statistical records of artillery losses during the war.

*Logan, Celia. How to reduce your weight or increase it: an exposition of the Salisbury plan. N. Y., W: A. Kellogg, 1023 Sixth ave., 1892. 147 p. 12°, cl., $1; leatherette, 50 c.

Luchsinger, J: The planting of the Swiss colony at New Glarus, Wisconsin; [reprinted from v. 12, Historical collections.] Madison, Wis., State Hist. Soc. of Wisconsin, 1892. 334-382 p. O. pap., 25 c.

A revised and elaborated reprint of an article written thirteen years ago, greatly enriched by additional documentary material and brought down to date. The colony of New Glarus was first settled in 1845 by about twenty-six families, numbering 122 men, women and children. At first they suffered untold hardships, but their industry, frugality and morality have now developed them into a thriving community, which has overflowed into adjacent towns and cities, and numbers some 8000 souls.

McCosh, Ja., D. D. Our moral nature: a brief system of ethics. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1892. c. 6+53 p. D. cl., 75 c.

Dr. McCosh says: "In this treatise I am to show that man is a moral agent, and expound his moral ideas and powers. It is one of the shortest of the common treatises on ethics or moral philosophy. This because the collateral topics usually discussed in ethical works are treated of in my other philosophic works. I can refer those who wish for a fuller exposition of kindred mental subjects to my two volumes on psychology."

MacDonald, G: The hope of the gospel. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. c. 3+242 p. D. cl., $1.

Twelve sermons. The subjects are: Salvation from sin; The remission of sins; Jesus in the world; Jesus and his fellow-townsmen; The heirs of heaven and earth; Sorrow the pledge of joy; God's family; The reward of obedience; The yoke of Jesus; The salt and the light of the world; The right and the left; The hope of the universe.

Macquoid, Katharine S. Appledore farm. N. Y., National Book Co., [United States Book Co., 1892.] 361 p. D. (The premier ser., no. 2.) pap., 50 c.

Appledore Farm lies in the southwest of England. Its owner squanders his substance at races and in speculation. His daughter finds her inheritance gone, and after making the old discovery that the gay, handsome, outwardly-devoted suitor is at heart selfish and designing, she accepts a good man's love, eases her father's burdens, and in time becomes a satisfied woman. Some of the story has its scene on the Continent.

Malot, Hector. A story without a moral; from the French by Max Maury. Chic., Laird & Lee, 1892. c. '91. 3-368 p. il. D. (Library of choice fiction, no. 51.) pap., 50 c.

Scenes and characters are French. A wife poisons her husband that she may marry her lover; married to the lover she quickly tires of him, and transfers her affections to another man. The guilty woman and her first lover are tried for the murder of the husband, the woman being clever enough to escape punishment, while the man is sentenced to hard labor for twenty years.

*Marbury, Mary E. Orvis. Favorite flies and their histories; with replies from experienced anglers to inquiries concerning how, when and where to use them. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1892. il. 12°, cl., $5.

Markham, Clements R. A history of Peru. Chic., C: H. Sergel & Co., 1892. c. 6+

556 p. maps, il. O. (Latin American Republics ser., no. 1.) cl., $2.50.

The first of a series of histories of the South American and Central American Republics, countries hitherto known to English and American readers only through the medium of books of travel and histories of limited periods. The complete presentation of the past and present national life of these republics, their enormous resources and the growing closeness of commercial relations will be included in the scope of these histories. In Peru the civilization of the red race attained its highest development. Here the colossal fabric of Spanish dominion was shattered, and for half a century an emancipated people have struggled to establish a national existence based on well-ordered liberty. The author has already written "Cozeu and Lima;" "Peru and India;" "War between Chili and Peru," etc.

Mathews, Joanna H. John Thorndyke's prejudice: a novel. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham, 1892. 8-372 p. D. pap., 50 c.

A love-tale which, after the usual complications, comes to a happy ending. The scenes and characters are mostly American. The writer is the author of the "Bessie books."

Mayo, Rev. A. D. Southern women in the recent educational movement in the South. Wash., D. C., Government Print. Office, 1892. 300 p. O. (Bureau of Education, Circular of information, no. 1.) pap., n. p.

The object is chiefly to direct attention to the services rendered by the women of the Southern States during the past 25 years in educating the Southern boys and girls, black and white. The three main divisions of the essay are, first, Southern schools for the education of girls; second, the work of Northern and Southern women in the superior schools for colored youth; third, the common school. An appendix contains a number of essays, originally prepared as lectures or magazine articles, bearing upon the subject of education in the South.

*Menaud, L. Autobiography and recollections of incidents connected with horticultural affairs, etc., from 1807 to 1892. Albany, N. Y., Weed, Parsons & Co., 1892. 218 p. il. por. 16°, cl., $1.25.

Merriman, Rev. T. M. The Pilgrims, Puritans, and Roger Williams vindicated: and his sentence of banishment ought to be revoked. Bost., Bradley & Woodruff, 1892. c. 12+312 p. sq. D. cl., $1.50.

After presenting a historical survey of the struggle for religious liberty in New England, from the landing of the Pilgrims and during the days of Roger Williams to its final establishment in 1789, the author devotes the second part of his work to a vindication of Roger Williams, "whose doctrines of religious liberty survive, while the theocratic system of the Puritans has dissolved away." Full index.

*Michigan. Supreme ct. Cases decided from Oct. 9 to Dec. 21, 1891. W: D. Fuller, st. rep. V. 88. Chic., Callaghan & Co., 1892. c. 69+735 p. O. shp., $3.50.

Milne, W: J. High school algebra: embracing a complete course for high schools and academies, being "Milne's inductive algebra," rev. and enl. N. Y., American Book Co., [1892.] c. 360 p. D. (Inductive ser.) hf. leath., $1.

The plan pursued is substantially the same as that adopted in the author's "Inductive algebra," of which this is a revision, but the scope of the treatise has been considerably extended. Natural and properly graduated exercises lead the scholar to a thorough comprehension of the principles of the science, and then he is given abundant practice in applying them.

Parr, Mrs. Louisa. The squire. N. Y., Cassell Pub. Co., [1892.] c. 2+328 p. D. cl., $1.

An ideal English country place is the home of Squire Royston, a confirmed bachelor, for a reason that to his daily associates remains a mystery. The heroine is the daughter of a London physician, who dies, leaving her a stepmother and an inheritance of debt. As soon as she discovers that her father's people have been induced to furnish money for a style of living far beyond their means by misrepresentations of her stepmother, she breaks off her life of false pretence and goes to gladden her grandmother's heart and meet her destiny.

Pilcher, Ja. E., M.D. First aid in illness and injury; comprised in a series of chapters on the human machine. N. Y., C. Scribner's Sons, 1892. c. 12+304 p. il. S. leath., net, $2.

This useful little manual is primarily intended as a text-book for civilian and military first-aid classes, but it is also of value as a reference-book for the emergencies of every-day life. The subject is treated with an avoidance of unnecessary technical detail of treatment requiring medical experience. The points and details of minor importance are given in small type. It is divided into four parts: The construction of the human machine; The implements of repair; Accidents and emergencies; The care of the human machine.

Pinkerton, Allan. The model town and the detectives. [Also.] Byron as a detective. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham, 1888. c. '76. 4-288 p. D. (Allan Pinkerton's great detective books, no. 7.) pap., 25 c.

Praed, Mrs. Campbell. December roses: a novel. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. c. 208 p. D. (Appleton's town and country lib., no. 96.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

When Alec Dundas and Nellie Christian, who were lovers until separated by designing relatives, meet in Lausanne after many years, Nellie is an estranged wife, and Alec the betrothed of Violet Derrick. On some pathetic incidents in the past and present of this pair is founded a novel in which the most interesting episode is the marriage of a woman of thirty-two and a man of forty.

Rand, McNally & Co.'s indexed county and township pocket map and shipper's guide of Montana. N. Y. and Chic., Rand, McNally & Co., [1892.] c. 18 p. folded map, S. pap., 25 c.

Richebourg, Emile. Stronger than death; adapted from the French of Emile Richebourg; by Alexina Loranger. Chic., Morrill, Higgins & Co., 1892. c. 4-317 p. il. D. (Idylwild ser., v. 1, no. 11.) pap., 50 c.

Alice de Marceley, the betrothed of George Lambert, suddenly marries the Count de Berne. The interest is in the sensational developments of this unlooked-for act, and in the proof that Alice gives that, in spite of appearances, her love for George Lambert is "stronger than death."

Riddell, Mrs. J. H. The head of the firm. N. Y., Lovell, Coryell & Co., [1892.] c. '91. 3-450 p. D. (Lovell's international ser., no. 214.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

A pretty young English girl, a vender of vegetables and fruits, falls heir to a large fortune, made by her father's uncle in America. She has been supporting her shiftless step-mother and her children by her efforts, but after receiving her fortune pensions them off, and takes a governess to train her for her new position. The story is one of simple homely details, showing the influence of money on the rich as well as the poor. There is the usual love episode, with an unusually lovely heroine.

Ring, Max. Prince and musician; from the German; by Hettie E. Miller. Chic., Donohue, Henneberry & Co., [1892.] c. 3-317 p. il. D. (Optimus ser., no. 20.) pap., 50 c.

The hero is a famous musician, the protégé of a German Prince. Women find him irresistible, and he appears successively as the lover of the Countess Ada Harrer and the Duchess Léonie von Taland. The former had been a happy wife before falling under his influence, but fully expiates her sin in the misery that comes to her in finding herself deserted. Norin, the musician, meets his punishment at the hands of the countess' husband.

Ritchie, Mrs. Anne Thackeray. The story of Elizabeth: a novel. Phil., T. B. Peterson & Bros., [1892.] c. '78. 224 p. S. (Peterson's ser. of choice fiction.) pap., 25 c.

Shaw, E. R. English composition by practice. N. Y., H. Holt & Co., 1892. c. 203 p. il. D. cl., 75 c.

This work is arranged along two parallel lines—first, a study, by means of observation, comparison and inference of the principles generally observed by good writers; and, second, constant practice in connected composition. The work in composition is so designed that the pupil may apply his knowledge of principles as soon as gained, and at the same time acquire those valuable qualities of writing—unity and fluency.—Preface.

Thomas, Reuen. Leaders of thought in the modern church. Bost., D. Lothrop Co., [1892.] c. 2-191 p. por. S. cl., $1.

Eight character studies of eight famous preachers—namely, Jonathan Edwards, William Ellery Channing, John Henry Newman, Thomas Chalmers, Frederick W. Robertson, Emanuel Swedenborg, Horace Bushnell and Frederick D. Maurice—men of widely differing beliefs and temperaments.

Thwaites. Reuben Gold. The story of the Black Hawk war; [reprinted from v. 12, Wisconsin historical collections.] Madison, Wis., State Historical Soc. of Wisconsin, 1892. 51 p. O. pap., 25 c.

Tinseau, Leon de. Thérèse de Quilliane; or, on the convent's threshold; from the French by Frances S. Gray. N. Y., J. Ireland, 1892. c. 3+336 p. D. pap., 50 c.

Albert Count de Senac, while smarting under the effects of a disappointment in love, believed that his vocation was that of a monk, and accordingly entered a convent. After a short novitiate he confessed the error of these views, and left his religious refuge for Cairo, where he meets Thérèse Quilliane, designed by her aunt to become a nun. The result of this meeting is a romantic love affair, in which Thérèse and Albert are hero and heroine.

*Verney, Frances Parthenope, comp. Memoirs of the Verney family during the civil war; comp. from the letters and il. by the portraits at Claydon House. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 2 v., 25+362; 15+454 p. 8°, cl., $12.

Virgil, [Lat. Virgilius.] Maro Publius. Six books of the Æneid; ed. by W. R. Harper and Frank J. Miller. N. Y., American Book Co., [1892.] 10+461 p. il. D. cl., $1.25. The text has been made up by a careful comparison of the editions of Conington and other commentators.

Brambach's decisions as to the best spelling of Latin words have been followed. Material for the literary study of Virgil is supplied by a bibliography, a list of topics for investigation, an account of the Royal House of Troy, rhetorical studies and copious notes on all subjects. The plan gives the student the grammar, notes, and lexicon all in one volume.

*Virginia. Acts of Assembly, 1891-92. Richmond, Va., J. H. O'Bannon, Supt. Pub. Printing, 1892. 1236 p. 8°, hf. cf., net, $1. (Cor. title.)

Weeks, Stephen Beauregard. The religious development in the province of North Carolina. Balt., Md., The Johns Hopkins Press, 1892. 2-68 p. O. (Johns Hopkins Univ. studies, 10th ser., nos. 5, 6.) pap., 50 c.

The purpose of this paper is twofold. In the first place the writer seeks to show that the earliest settlers in North Carolina were not religious refugees; that they came to the province not from religious, but mainly from economic motives. In the second place he traces the progress of the struggle for an Establishment, and shows that beginning with 1701 the Episcopal Church was for three-quarters of a century the legal church in North Carolina.

Whitney, Rev. S. W. The revisers' Greek text: a critical examination of certain readings, textual and marginal, in the original Greek of the New Testament adopted by the late Anglo-American revisers. Bost., Silver, Burdett & Co., 1892. c. 2 v., 361; 350 p. D. cl., $5.

An examination of some of the readings adopted by the late Anglo-American revisers of the New Testament in their Greek text on which their revised English Version is based. The so-called authorities for those readings are cited, so that the English reader of the Revised Version can see and judge for himself what and how much value is to be attached to those readings. The work is the result of over ten years' painstaking labor and research. It has been prepared with special reference to readers of English who are not altogether at home in Greek. Where Greek words are introduced the corresponding English generally accompanies them. The well-made index is the work of Rev. Henry C. Graves, of New Bedford. Rev. S. W. Whitney is pastor of the Baptist Church at Ashfield, Mass.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 23, 1892.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or our advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, must reach us by Tuesday morning of each week.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The next important reason is that the Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY forms the basis of "The American Catalogue" and so the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

PROFESSION OF BOOKSELLING.—XV.

THE ORDER DEPARTMENT.—I.

THE order department of a large retail store is of equal importance with the sales department, and upon the proper management of its manifold details depends to a very considerable extent the successful issue of the business. If it is conducted in a slipshod or erratic way the inevitable result will be a loss of trade not easily won back again; for if there is anything that aggravates a bookbuyer more than disappointment in receiving promptly a book which he has ordered and, possibly, paid for, we do not know of it. Conversely, it is true that the dealer who earns for himself a reputation for promptness and despatch may depend upon the consideration and the steadfast support of his customers. He may have many shortcomings; for the sake of this one virtue they will be overlooked.

The order department of a retail store of any size is a kind of a purgatory, and the position of the chief of it one of infinite worry, application and detail. It calls for a thorough acquaintance with books; a comprehensive knowledge of the trade; executive ability, especially in planning work for his subordinates and managing inferior assistants; a well-trained, equable disposition; self-possession and a cool head in the midst of the greatest confusion; a good memory; quickness of perception—to enable its incumbent to see opportunities and to take advantage of them; and, lastly, a ferret-like, dogged perseverance that will enable him to keep up the chase after the desired book until he has tracked it to its hiding-place, or put himself into possession of undoubted evidence of its non-existence.

Being thus physically and mentally equipped, the next thing for the order clerk to consider is his aids. He must surround himself with the most complete outfit of catalogues he can possibly command. He ought to have a complete set of the "Uniform Trade List Annual" from 1872 to date. We say all, because the earlier years contain many books that have been dropped from the later lists of publishers, and because they also contain many lists of publishers who are no longer in business, or perhaps no longer contribute lists to the "Annual." He should also have complete sets of Roobach, Kelly, the "American Catalogue" from 1876-90, the English Catalogue published by Sampson Low & Co., Whittaker's Reference List, the various trade and literary journals; in fact, as nearly as possible the whole apparatus, as already described in this series* and brought together in handy shape in "The Bookseller's Library."

He should have all these catalogues bound, and arranged on shelves near his desk. He should keep his current trade papers and others in files and make sure that they are kept strictly up to date. The latter might be kept on slanting shelves so that they may lie flat, and so be handy for reference, saving the trouble of taking them down in handling them. The catalogue most constantly referred to, like the "Uniform Trade List Annual," should be kept on the same shelf; so should also a separately bound copy of the "American Educational Catalogue." It will be found more useful if the latter be interleaved and the added leaves have entered upon them the titles of the new school-books that have been published since the issue of the Educational Catalogue. As the school-book stock of most jobbers is limited to the most important and current text-books, the search after the latest often causes considerable trouble.

The order clerk will also find it a valuable help to keep a large blank-book, indexed throughout, of which he can make an index rerum. In this might be entered by subject, title, author and proper name all the books and odd things that come in his way, and that are not conveniently kept on record elsewhere, such as encyclopædias, dictionaries, subscription-books, odd issues of the regular houses, names of parties who keep out-of-the-way books and specialties, discounts, etc. Such a book will, in the course of years, become a repository of personal information that will render it well-nigh invaluable.

He should also keep several boxes, preferably BB files. One might be labelled "Stock Order Slips," in which are to be kept alphabetically all the order slips sent to the order clerk by the buyer. When the goods come in, the slips may be taken out and the bills compared with them. If correct, let the slips be so marked and filed away in another box labelled "Filled Stock Orders." By following this suggestion the order clerk can keep his regular box clear of all but unfilled orders, and these ready and easy of reference at all times.

The order clerk should also make certain that his firm receives (through him) from every known publishing house its bulletins, circulars and announcements of new and forthcoming books, which ought to be kept as nearly as possible alphabetically in a box, labelled "Announcements." In this box might also be kept newspaper clippings referring to forthcoming books, and such advertisements as appear in special magazines and journals. These should be carefully read before being filed, and referred to and weeded out from time to time, or as often as there may be opportunity for doing so.

A SYNDICATE of publishers has been formed in France with a view to prevent underselling, and has agreed to the following amongst other rules: The publishers bind themselves not to favor any correspondent to the detriment of others, but to allow a uniform discount to all booksellers for orders of the same importance. The publishers require that retail catalogues shall only give the selling prices of books. They undertake to exercise moral pressure on certain retailers and bazaars to prevent an undue reduction of prices. Having taken into consideration the complaints of certain retailers that the discount allowed by some publishers is insufficient, the syndicate has decided, by common accord, to ask retail booksellers to state the minimum of price below which they will provisionally undertake not to descend when affixing prices to books in their catalogues and advertisements until it be possible to return to the selling price. The publishers, on their side, promise to use all means in their power to prevent the cataloguing or selling of their publications at prices lower than those submitted by the booksellers.

NORTHWESTERN BOOKSELLERS' AND NEWSDEALERS' ASSOCIATION.

FIRST ANNUAL CONVENTION.

THE first annual convention of the Northwestern Booksellers and Newsdealers' Association was held in the rooms of the Jobbers' Union, Minneapolis, Minn., beginning Tuesday, July 12, 1892. The meeting was called to order by the president, C. E. Musser, at 2:30 P.M. The roll call and the minutes of the last meeting of the Minneapolis branch of the Association were read by Secretary Raymer, who then presented a list of forty-two applications for membership, which were declared approved.

President Musser then addressed the meeting as follows:

"The object of our Association," said he, "is to bring the booksellers, newsdealers, publishers and readers closer together, both in a business and social way. We feel that there is, to some extent, a need of education in some respects among the members of the trade, and we believe we can acquire that education by the intercourse which grows out of this Association. While it may not be altogether desirable or necessary to explain the intricacies of our individual business methods, as each man has to some extent his own methods, still there are many general points upon which we can all agree, and there are many things we can accomplish for the good of all of us by attending these meetings. There are many points which are of mutual interest to us all, as for instance, the matter of cutting prices. Again, we can obtain much information of the methods of the different publishing houses represented here, and can see the publications they put out, learning much about the natural differences which exist in their prices, on account of quality, etc. The points named are some of the reasons for which this Association has been organized, as well as to come to the basis of selling publications at uniform prices."

President Musser then offered his report as chairman of the the Committee on Constitution and By-laws, and the proposed constitution was discussed. Mr. McNie offered an amendment to the by-laws, that five members instead of ten should constitute a quorum; it was adopted. Mr. Ackermann, of Chicago, objected to article 2 of the constitution, which stated that it was the object of the Association "to present an unbroken front to publishers and manufacturers." He thought this ought to be changed, as the Association should not endeavor to present an unbroken front to manufacturers and publishers, but rather try to work with them for the mutual welfare of both the manufacturers and retailers; "there must be no opposition between the two, if it can possibly be avoided." He was therefore of opinion that the article should be so amended as to omit that clause. After a brief discussion it was decided that the sentence following the word "good" in the obnoxious clause should be omitted, and on motion of Mr. McNie article 10 of the constitution was changed to read: "That this constitution shall not be amended except by the vote of two-thirds of the members present." The constitution and by-laws were then adopted as amended.

After the reading of the treasurer's report, Mr. Ackermann suggested that a programme of the next day's session be prepared and copies mailed to the booksellers, publishers and salesmen then in Minneapolis, as well as to the booksellers of Minneapolis, St. Paul and neighboring cities, stating when and where the meetings of the Association were to be held and the subjects which would be discussed.

President Musser approved of the suggestion, and on motion of Mr. McNie the president, secretary and Mr. Ackermann were appointed as a committee to take charge of the matter, making out the programme for the next day's session, and superintending all other necessary arrangements, such as notifying the newsdealers and others interested, both in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and sending the programmes to the newspapers for insertion. On motion of Mr. Sayre, the Association adjourned to meet Wednesday, July 13, at 10 A.M.

[Owing to a delay in the mail, the concluding portion of this report must be deferred until our next issue.—Ed. P. W.]

BIBLIOTHECA SPENCERIANA.

THE announcement of the proposed sale of the library of the Earl of Spencer has naturally awakened considerable interest among the book-collectors of this country, and many have been the speculations as to how a part or the whole of this "pearl among pearls" might be secured for America. Seemingly undaunted by the price asked for the collection en bloc, £300,000, an enterprising firm of booksellers propose the following plan:

"For a certain number of book-collectors to guarantee the money necessary for its purchase.

"The books to be brought to New York and put up for auction either among the members of the syndicate or to the public. . . . Profits divided pro rata."*

The ingenious projectors of this scheme feel confident that if the books were put up for auction to the public a good cash profit could be made. Already a considerable sum of money has been guaranteed, and there seems to be reasonable hope that the whole amount asked for will be secured before the offer is withdrawn.

In reply to several inquiries, we can only briefly state that the library in question was collected for the most part by John Earl Spencer. It contains fifty thousand volumes, most of which have been extensively and most interestingly described in Dibdin's "Bibliotheca Spenceriana," his "Ædes Althorpiana," and in the "Cassano Catalogue." Referring to these, we content ourselves with calling attention to some of the chief items to which the library owes its glory.

Taking Dibdin's order, we come first to the block books. Several in number, they include what is probably the earliest edition of the "Biblia Pauperum," two or three editions of the celebrated "Ars Moriendi," and other rare and interesting volumes. Among the other curiosities of the early press are two Papal Indulgences, printed 1450-1455. Following these comes a noble copy of the noblest of books—the Gutenberg Bible. A collector was found in this country willing to pay $14,800 for an imperfect copy. Then to be mentioned is the rarer edition of the Bible, which Dibdin thinks was printed by Albert Pfister before 1460, and which may have been commenced, if not printed, before the Gutenberg Bible itself. But five copies are known. The other Bibles—including the 1535 Coverdale—are, while too numerous to specify—all of great value and interest.

The excitement raised by a London bookseller in paying £4950 for the Mentz Psalter of 1459 is well remembered. In Lord Spencer's collection is a splendid copy accompanied by the first and rarer issue of 1457. The former is a magnificent specimen—on vellum. Many rare Psalters follow, with Missals, Books of Hours, Works of the Fathers and Theology—nearly all monuments of early printing in the finest possible condition. The section devoted to classics is distinguished for its richness. From Æsop to Virgil we have every first edition in matchless state. Here it is hardly possible to distinguish one great book from another—here is the "Boethius" printed by Collard Manson at Bruges in 1477, the "Cicero" of 1465, printed at Mentz by Faust & Schöffer, and on vellum, the unique "Horace" of 1474, printed by Arnoldus de Bruxelles at Naples, and literally hundreds of others. The "Philobiblion" is represented, and, of course, by the first edition.

The section of grammars and lexicons would itself form a library of no mean proportion, and includes everything of interest from the fifteenth century presses. Among these books is the Latin German Lexicon of 1469, of which a copy was sold in New York for $2500. Among other rarities is a beautiful copy of the "Catholicon" of Balbus. This alone is said to be worth $3000. The greatest wonder, however, is excited when we come to the productions of the early printers in England. In all there are ninety-nine books known to have issued from Caxton Press. No collection in the world has all of these books. This collection excels in their possession. It contains more than the British Museum itself—comprising no less than eighty books printed by England's first printer, William Caxton.

More interesting even than these, if that be possible, is the series of works issued by the mysterious and unknown printer of St. Albans. Here is a perfect copy of the "Book of St. Albans" itself, and of the "Book of Hawking and Hunting," by the no less mysterious Dame Juliana Berners, one of the most interesting books ever printed in England. Here also is found "The Rhetorica Nova of 1480"—the first book printed at St. Albans, and in beautiful condition. Scarcely less important is the "Chronicles of England" from the same press.

There was an early press at Oxford, examples of which are so rare as to cause the wealthiest and most courageous book-collector to despair. The Bibliotheca Spenceriana is rich in them. It contains the famous "St. Hieronymus," dated 1468, around which has risen such a storm of controversy, besides the other rare and valuable issues from this, one of the earliest presses set up in England.

The large series of books printed by Lettou, Machlinia, Wynkyn de Worde, Pynson and other English printers is of immense value. There are thousands of other books worthy of mention—the Speculum Humanæ Salvationis, of 1475, the first edition of Aretino's "Florence"; in fact, a whole storehouse of riches—we must refer you to Dibdin. And we have not mentioned the Valdarfer Boccaccio, the bidding for which occasioned such excitement during the sale of the Roxburghe library. The Marquess of Blandford was the successful bidder then, paying the fabulous sum of £2260. The Earl of Spencer obtained it later—at a considerably less price, however, owing to the fact that other copies turned up.

* [Since the above was written, and as we go to press, we learn that Sotheby has for the present withdrawn the offer. It is rumored that the German Government is making strenuous efforts to obtain the library.—Ed. P. W.]

THE NEW AGENT OF THE WESTERN BOOK CONCERN.

REV. LEWIS CURTS, D. D.

THE Rev. Dr. William P. Stowe, who for twelve years has been connected with the Western Methodist Book Concern at Cincinnati as publishing agent, was not re-elected to his office this year, and is likely to re-enter active service as a pastor. Under his management the Book Concern enjoyed wonderful prosperity. During these twelve years it has paid a debt of more than $500,000, and advanced in net capital from $330,000 to $1,130,000. It now joins the Eastern Concern in giving a yearly dividend of $125,000 for the benefit of the aged ministers of the church and their dependent families. Dr. Stowe has been honored by his Conference selecting him a delegate to five General Conferences. He has served as a member of the book committee of the church, and for many years as trustee of Lawrence University. He has filled other places of honor in the church. He will now probably return to Wisconsin, in which State he held several pastorates before going to Chicago.

His successor, Rev. Lewis Curtis, D. D., is the son of a clergyman, his father being a preacher among the United Brethren in Christ. He was born in Hocking County, Ohio, and moved to Henry County, Ohio, when he was six months old. From that time on, until sixteen years of age, he "grew up" in the woods along the Maumee River. He moved to Lisbon, Ia., in 1863. He enlisted when about eighteen years old as a private in Company F, Twenty-fourth Iowa Volunteers, and served until the close of the war. After his return from the army he attended Cornell College, Iowa, graduating in 1869. In the winter of 1869-70 he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, at Colfax, Ia., and was by that church proposed for the ministry. He visited Illinois, and was at once appointed by Rev. J. H. Moore, Presiding Elder, as a supply at Lodi, Rock River Conference. He joined that Conference in October, 1870, and has been a useful and prominent member thereof. At the time of his appointment he filled the office of Presiding Elder of the North Chicago District.

COPYRIGHT IN APPLETONS' CYCLOPEDIA OF AMERICAN BIOGRAPHY SUSTAINED.

D. APPLETON & Co. have recently been successful in sustaining their copyright in their "Cyclopædia of American Biography," and in maintaining their exclusive right to the use of all the matter contained in that work, including the cuts and portraits as well as the text.

Some time ago the R. S. Peale Company, of Chicago, published and put upon the market a work which they entitled "American Revisions and Additions to the Encyclopædia Britannica." This work was in three volumes. Shortly after the first volume had been offered for sale, it came to the attention of D. Appleton & Co. that the R. S. Peale Company had inserted in its publication a number of cuts or portraits and a large number of extracts copied from the Appleton Cyclopædia. The Appletons at once employed counsel, and a careful examination was made of the R. S. Peale Company Revisions and Additions to see whether the Appleton copyright had been infringed upon, and if so, to what extent. A careful comparison of the Appleton Cyclopædia and the Peale publication disclosed the fact that the Peale Company had copied various cuts and articles from the Appleton Cyclopædia.

The R. S. Peale Company was at once notified that it had infringed upon the Appleton copyright, and was requested to stop the further printing and sale of its infringing publication, to suppress the copied matter, and to make suitable reparation to D. Appleton & Co. for its past invasion of the latter's copyright. Preparations were made to begin suit against the R. S. Peale Company in case it should not comply with the request of the Appletons.

In answer to this notification Mr. R. S. Peale and his counsel came to New York at once, and a conference was had between the parties, as a result of which the full demands of the Appletons were acceded to by the Peale Company and their rights fully acknowledged. The Peale Company agreed to suppress the piratical matter contained in its publication, and, in addition, paid D. Appleton & Co. all the expenses which they had already incurred in preparation for a suit, and a considerable sum besides in liquidation of damages for past infringement.

The settlement was highly satisfactory to Messrs. Appleton & Co., and it is a matter of general gratification to publishers to know that their copyright has been respected and enforced. The R. S. Peale Company, when it was fully apprised of the situation in which it was placed, came forward promptly and changed its publication, and paid all the claims in full.

OBITUARY NOTES.

MRS. ROSE TERRY COOKE, one of the best-known women writers of New England, died on the 18th inst. at her home in Pittsfield, Mass., after a short illness. She was a member of the well-known Terry family of Connecticut, and was born in Wethersfield, Conn., February 17, 1827. In 1873 she was married to Rollin H. Cooke, a banker of Winsted, Conn., in which town they lived until five years ago, when they removed to Pittsfield, Mass. Mrs. Cooke's first magazine work was done for Putnam's Magazine, before she was twenty years old, and she soon became well known to readers of the Atlantic, Harper's and the old Scribner's Monthly as a contributor of short stories, humorous and dramatic, illustrative of New England country life. She wrote only two long stories, "Happy Dodd," published in 1879, and "Steadfast," a novel of colonial times in New England, issued in 1889, and by many considered her best work. Nearly all her other books are collections of the short tales which have made her famous as an exponent of New England life and sentiment. Of these the best known are "Somebody's Neighbors," published in 1881; "The Sphinx's Children," in 1886; "The Deacon's Week" and "Root Bound," 1885; and "Huckleberries Gathered on New England Hills," her latest work, published in October, 1891. She also wrote several volumes of verse, the first being published in 1860, and in 1886 produced "No! a Story for Boys."

WE regret to hear of the death, on the 10th inst., of Marshall W. Waitt, of the firm of M. W. Waitt & Co., booksellers, Victoria, B. C. Mr. Waitt has been long known by reputation to many in this country as the soul of honor in all his transactions.

THOMAS COOK, the founder of the famous "Cook's Tours," who died on the 19th inst., aged eighty-four, was in his youth apprenticed to Joseph Weeks, a Loughborough printer and publisher of Baptist books. In the forties he established the Children's Temperance Magazine, the first of its kind in England.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MARION CRAWFORD'S new novel is to bear the title of "Laura Arden."

LAURENCE HUTTON is preparing for Harper & Brothers a volume of essays on books.

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON has nearly completed a novel, entitled "The Pearl Fisher."

MISS WINNIE DAVIS is at work on a book of personal recollections of her father—Jefferson Davis.

PROF. W. M. RAMSAY, of Aberdeen, is preparing a work on "The Early Church in the Roman Empire."

JAMES G. BLAINE is said to be at work on a "Handbook to Politics," projected more than three years ago.

FRANÇOIS COPPÉE has sent to his publisher, M. Lemerre, the manuscript of a new work, entitled "Les Vrais Riches."

CLARK RUSSELL has just finished what is considered by many critics to be the best novel he has yet written. It is entitled "The Convict Ship."

"BETSY," a capital story recently published by Osgood & McIlvaine, is now acknowledged to be by Miss Valentine Munro-Ferguson, of Novar.

J. M. BARRIE is now engaged on two more books—one about Tammas Haggart, who is his favorite among his creations, and one a story of London life.

THE report that Mr. Whittier is to write an ode for the World's Fair is now denied on authority. He says that his health will not permit of any literary engagement.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE, New York, at its recent commencement, conferred the degree of Doctor of Letters upon Mr. Edmund Clarence Stedman, who is, we believe, not a graduate of any university.

SIDNEY DILLON wrote a paper for Scribner's Historic Moment Series, and made his final revision of it only a few weeks before his death. It describes the "Driving of the Last Spike of the Union Pacific."

BRET HARTE has just concluded a new story, entitled "Susy." Admirers of his "Waif of the Plains" will find the new story an account of the further doings of that most interesting creation, "Clarence."

WE regret to hear of the serious illness of Mr. George William Curtis. We trust that the gloomy rumors concerning his condition may prove premature and erroneous, and that the genial incumbent of the "Easy-Chair" may be spared many years more to instruct and delight his vast circle of readers.

UNDER an appropriation recently made by the General Assembly of Ohio, the Archaeological and Historical Society of that State has selected

Mrs. Madeline Vinton Dahlgren as the author of the larger portion of the book covered by the appropriation. The volume will treat of "The Boundary Question," and Mrs. Dahlgren's work will consist of editing the famous argument of the Hon. Samuel F. Vinton, her father, as well as a life of the author of the historic address.

It is not generally known, says The Bookman, that Mr. Haskett Smith, the author of "For God and Humanity," is the first English tax-gatherer or publican in Palestine. He was Laurence Oliphant's great helper in his work amongst the Druses on Mount Carmel, and is now his successor there. In his work he was greatly hindered by the tax-gatherers, who ground down the people till they were in a state of semi-starvation. Mr. Haskett Smith therefore bought the post of tax-gatherer—it is put up to auction by the Government—and has thus been able to improve materially the condition of the Druses. He has written some valuable articles in Blackwood to prove that these Druses are none other than the founders of freemasonry.

PERSONAL NOTES.

MR. REINHARD VOLKMANN is the agent in this country of the German Börsenverein, and accredited to make arrangements for the works of German authors under the new copyright law. His office is in the store of Breikopf & Härtel, 15 East 17th Street, New York.

H. GRANFIELD, who has been for nearly five years manager of the subscription and miscellaneous book departments of Charles L. Webster & Co., will organize and take charge of a new subscription-book department for Dodd, Mead & Co.

MR. WARREN SNYDER, buyer for Wanamaker's book department, will be absent from Philadelphia during the month of August. Intending visitors will please make note of the fact.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

GROUP 150 in the Department of Liberal Arts, to which book exhibits will be assigned at the Columbian Exposition, is divided into eleven classes as follows: Class 854, books and literature with special examples of typography, paper and binding. General works—philosophy, religion, sociology, philology, natural sciences, useful arts, fine arts, literature, history and geography; cyclopædias, magazines and newspapers; bindings and specimens of typography. Class 855, school-books; class 856, technical industrial journals; class 857, illustrated papers; class 858, newspapers and statistics of their multiplication, growth and circulation; class 859, journalism, statistics of: with illustrations of methods, organization and results; class 860, trade catalogues and price lists; class 861, library apparatus: systems of cataloguing and appliances of placing and delivering books; class 862, directories of cities and towns; class 863, publications by governments; and class 864, topographical maps, marine and coast charts, geological maps and sections; botanical, agronomical, and other maps, showing the extent and distribution of men, animals and terrestrial products; physical maps; meteorological maps and bulletins; telegraphic routes and stations; railway and route maps; terrestrial and celestial globes, relief maps and models of portions of the earth's surface, profiles of ocean beds and routes of submarine cables.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

A THREE-QUARTERS portrait of the late James R. Osgood leads the series of plates in the July Sun and Shade (N. Y. Photo-Gravure Co.).

HARPER & BROTHERS have at last decided to place their periodicals in limited numbers, "on sale," with the privilege to the dealers of returning unsold copies.

The British Bookmaker for June 30 contains an interesting sketch of the master bookbinder, William Matthews, illustrated with a portrait and two fine reproductions of the "Alhambra," bound by Matthews for the Exhibition of 1853, showing the outer and inside design of the cover.

FREDERIC REMINGTON, the artist, who with Poultney Bigelow was recently expelled from Russia, has returned to New York. The experiences of these two gentlemen in Germany and Western Russia will be narrated in a series of illustrated articles in Harper's Magazine, under whose auspices their expedition was originally undertaken.

The Fortnightly Review for July contains under the title of "Some Recent Novels" an excellent unconventional review of Hall Caine's "The Little Manx Nation," and "The Deemster," Barrie's "Little Minister," and Hardy's "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." The same issue contains a well-considered essay on Guy de Maupassant, by Edward Delille.

IN order to stimulate American composition, The Ladies' Home Journal has just made public a series of liberal prizes for the best original musical composition by composers resident in the United States and Canada. The prizes call for a waltz, a piano composition, a pleasing ballad and a popular song, an anthem and the four best hymn tunes. The competition is open until November 1 next. The opportunity has an additional attractiveness since the prize compositions will form part of a series for which Strauss is writing an original waltz, and Charles Gounod and Sir Arthur Sullivan each an original song.

THE London Athenæum for July 2 contains its review of continental literature for the year ending June, 1892. It is as comprehensive and as accurate as usual. At the very outset one change is noted: "This is the first time for twenty-two years that the signature of Emile de Laveleye is not to be found at the foot of The Athenæum's annual survey of French and Flemish literature in Belgium." This long term of service was terminated only by death, and his place is taken by Paul Fredericq. The other contributors to this series of articles are: V. Tille, Bohemia; Joseph Reinach, France; Robert Zimmermann, Germany; Spy. P. Lambros, Greece; Taco H. de Beer, Holland; Leopold Katscher, Hungary; Ruggero Bonghi and Giovanni Zannoni, Italy; Henrik Jæger, Norway; Adam Belcikowski, Poland; Paul Milyoukoff, Russia; Juan F. Riaño, Spain, and Hugo Tigerschiöld, Sweden.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ATCHISON, KAN.—A bookstore has been opened in the school-building here.

BOSTON, MASS.—We are pleased to learn that the bookstore of the late T. O. H. P. Burnham, under the Old South, which has been so long a unique feature of the trade in Boston, is not to be given up on account of the proprietor's death.

After his death the administrators of his estate called for sealed bids from all persons desirous of purchasing the collection, and it is now learned that the successful bidders are three former employees of Mr. Burnham—R. C. Lichtenstein, who was with him for twenty-five years, William H. Greenleaf, who was in his employ for thirty-one years, and Henry F. Dodge, who was with him for nearly ten years. There are said to be 250,000 volumes left by Mr. Burnham, 90,000 being in the present place of business under the Old South and the remainder divided between Mr. Burnham's house on Beacon Street and a store-room on High Street. There are also 125,000 magazines and pamphlets, the whole making one of the largest collections in this section. There are many volumes of early Americana and as many as 50,000 odd volumes, the placing of which upon the market will offer an unusual opportunity for completing broken sets. One of the treasures of the collection is an original copy of the Bay Psalm-Book. It is the purpose of the new proprietors to give renewed youth to the establishment, and make it a Boston institution for the future as well as the past.

BOSTON, MASS.—Mr. William E. Pulsifer, who was for five years with Ginn & Co., and who has so successfully managed their New York office for the past two years, has become a member of their firm.

CHAMBERSBURG, PA.—The bookbinding of the late J. N. Snider has been sold to J. Milford Gordon, a practical bookbinder and ruler, who will continue the business at the same place.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—The Eclectic Publishing Company has been organized, with W. W. Hooper, President; N. C. Steele, Vice-President; and T. P. Jarnagin, Secretary and Treasurer.

CHELSEA, MASS.—Geo. W. Spencer has bought out the bookstore of J. M. Linscott.

CHICAGO, ILL.—The George W. Ogilvie Company, publishers, has been granted a certificate of incorporation. The capital stock named is $50,000, and the incorporators are George W. Ogilvie, Nathan Corwith and Lewis W. Parker.

DULUTH, MINN.—W. S. Albertson succeeds Albertson & Chamberlain, booksellers.

FORT WORTH, TEX.—J. S. Carruthers has sold his stock of books, stationery and notions to a Llano firm, who will ship the goods to that city.

HOT SPRINGS, ARK.—John Woods has bought a half interest in the book and stationery business of Louis D. Cooper, and the style of the firm is now Cooper & Woods.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.—Charles D. Whittall & Co., booksellers and stationers, have been incorporated as the C. D. Whittall Company. The capital is $25,000. The store which the firm occupies at 125 Nicollet Avenue has been recently renovated throughout.

NEW BRITAIN, CONN.—J. H. Miner, bookseller and stationer, has sold out.

NEWBURG, N. Y.—A. Stanley Wood has purchased the interest of his partner, Capt. J. M. Hickey, and will hereafter conduct the book and stationery business formerly run by the firm. Capt. Hickey will hereafter devote his time to the care of his real estate interests.

NEW YORK CITY.—Bromfield & Co. have removed their offices to 77 Bible House, where Mr. J. E. Jewett will act as the general agent for the sale of their books. The senior partner, Rev. E.

T. Bromfield, D.D., has retired from the firm to re-enter the ministry.

NEW YORK CITY.—James H. Wood, publisher, bookseller and importer, formerly of 10 East 14th Street, has moved to 176 Sixth Avenue, between 12th and 13th Streets. He will make a specialty of scientific books, and is agent for Lukins' "Turning Lathes, and Screws and Screw-Making."

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Scrantom, Wetmore & Co. (established in 1868) have just removed from the Ellwanger & Barry Building to their new store in the Powers Block, at 21-23 State Street and 20 West Main Street. The new store, including the basement, provides nearly 15,000 square feet of floor. The two entrances, one in 23 State Street and the other in West Main Street, make the new store very convenient and accessible. The entrance on State Street is very impressive in appearance. The woodwork is of fine mahogany and the pillars and plate are of polished brass; the vestibule floor being of Mosaic marble. The interior of the store is finished in natural woods and the arrangement of the stock is not only convenient but greatly tends to heighten the general effect. Of course the book department is a most extensive and complete one. It is divided into many subdivisions, every branch of literature being assigned a special position. This department is under the general charge of E. W. Scrantom and A. C. Walker. The fine stationery and engraving department is an interesting one, and its interests are looked after by Mr. Edward H. Walker and others. The commercial stationery department, constituting an extensive store in itself, is in the charge of F. B. Allen, assisted by Harry Tompkins and George A. Newman. The department devoted to leather and fancy goods is looked after by Mr. Henry B. Gould, and includes a large display of fine pocket cutlery of the finest makes. Occupying a prominent position is the department assigned to athletic goods, summer sports, etc., with Martin B. Gilmore in charge. The wholesale department occupies the basement together with a large space on the main floor. This branch of the firm's business has grown to immense proportions, and it has contributed, in no small degree, to the success and prosperity enjoyed by the firm. L. G. Wetmore manages this department, assisted by Charles P. Wilkin. The road representatives of this department are Messrs. Charles Perry and V. I. Wood.

SHREVEPORT, LA.—The stock of H. P. Hyam, bookseller, has been sold.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.—The firm of S. B. Fisher & Co. was dissolved July 6, S. B. Fisher buying V. Pervost's interest. S. B. Fisher will continue under his own name at 143 State Street.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE eighteenth annual edition of Lockwood's Directory of the Paper and Stationery Trades, 1892-3, is now ready.

THE BANCROFT-WHITNEY Co. have just ready vol. 3 of the "Washington Reports," and vol. 93 of the "California Reports."

WILBUR B. KETCHAM, New York, has become the sole New York agent for the publications of the Publishing House of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and is now prepared to fill all orders at the same rate as though ordered direct.

THE ARENA COMPANY, Boston, have in preparation

"The Rise of the Swiss Republic," by William D. McCrackan; also, "Sultan to Sultan: my adventures among the Masai and other native tribes of East Africa," by Mrs. French-Sheldon.

THE WORTHINGTON Co. will publish in their International Library "The Heiress," by Henri Greville, translated by Emma C. Hewitt and Julien Colmar, and in the Fair Library Ossip Schublin's story, "The Hand of Destiny," translated by Mary A. Robinson.

M. J. SABIN has now in type parts cxv to cxvi of Sabin's "A Dictionary of Books Relating to America." The work, as unfortunately all undertakings of this kind are doomed to be, has not yet reached the stage at which it is self-supporting—hence the long intervals of publication.

THE report of Postmaster Van Cott, of the New York Post-Office, for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1892, shows that the total receipts of the office were $6,783,201.99, and total expenditures $2,568,699.82 (including $1,151,126.82 for free delivery service), giving a net revenue of $4,214,502.17, and an increase of $396,681.75 over the previous year's receipts.

Two theological books of importance will be issued this week by Thos. Whittaker. Canon Cheyne's "Aids to the Devout Study of Criticism," and a volume of sermons by the late Henry Allon, the famous Islington preacher, entitled "The Indwelling Christ." A melancholy interest attaches to the last book, the author having died a few days after the proofs were finished.

ANDREW GEYER has in preparation "Geyer's Directory of the Wood Pulp and Fibre Mills of the United States" for 1892. This directory, as its name implies, will contain a list of all the wood pulp and fibre mills in the country, with their equipment, capacity, officers, and much additional information as to location, railroad, telegraph and banking facilities, etc.

DUPRAT & Co. will publish in the fall "Romeo and Juliet," with illustrations by Jacques Wagrez and a preface by Richard Henry Stoddard. The edition is limited, and similar in size and type to the "Antony and Cleopatra" that was illustrated by Paul Avril, with a preface by W. J. Rolfe, and published by the same firm. Duprat & Co. sold before it was printed the whole edition of W. L. Andrews' "Jean Grolier."

BY an oversight our printer in the issue of the WEEKLY for July 2 placed a dividing rule between two advertisements on page 18, so that J. H. Vail & Co.'s announcement was left without an address, and John M. Scudder made to appear as though he had removed to 135 Eighth Street, N. Y. Our readers will please remember that Mr. Scudder's address is still 228 West Court Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and that Vail & Co. are at 135 Eighth Street, N. Y.

THE week in Chicago from July 4 to 11, according to all accounts, was the most remarkable and successful for many years for the representatives of the publishing houses of this country. With but few exceptions (and these were reported to be on their way) every house was represented, and did a much better business than in any previous year. One who was present said it reminded him more of the annual book fair at Leipzig than anything he has yet seen in this country.

KEPPLER & SCHWARTZMANN, the publishers of

Puck, announce that they will issue a limited edition (to be sold by subscription only) of "Cartoons from Puck," by Joseph Keppler, "being a choice selection of the most noteworthy of Mr. Keppler's cartoons that have appeared in Puck from 1877 to 1892." Mr. H. C. Bunner will provide explanatory and historical notes. They will also issue Bunner's humorous story, "The Runaway Browns," now appearing weekly in Puck, as soon as it is concluded in that publication.

MACMILLAN & Co. have in preparation, under the general editorship of Mr. J. W. Clark, University Registrar at Cambridge, and Mr. S. F. Harmer, Superintendent of the Museum of Zoölogy, a series of eight volumes upon the natural history of vertebrate and invertebrate animals, which, as being edited and written almost entirely by Cambridge men, will bear the title of The Cambridge Natural History. An attempt will be made to combine popular treatment and popular language with the most modern results of scientific research.

A. P. T. ELDER, of Chicago, was lately sentenced to eighteen months imprisonment at Joliet and to pay a fine of $500. The charge upon which he was convicted was that of carrying on a fraudulent publishing business under the name of the Elder Company. This is the man who several years ago started a monthly magazine called the Literary Life, and who induced Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland to become its editor. After a few numbers were published she discovered the true character of the man and refused to be further connected with it.

GINN & Co. will publish August 1 "A German Grammar for High Schools and Colleges," by George Hempl, Ph.D., assistant professor in Michigan University, and formerly instructor in German in the Johns Hopkins University. They announce a condensed edition of Hugo's "Les Misérables," prepared by Prof. F. C. De Sumichrast. This follows the same plan as Prof. De Sumichrast's edition of "Les Trois Mousquetaires," the best parts will be given intact, and the place of the others supplied by a concise summary, in French, of each omitted chapter.

It will be recalled that at the time of the sale of the earliest printed copy of Poe's "Tamerlane" no one seemed to know anything about the printer, Calvin Thomas, of Boston. Mr. C. F. Libbie, the auctioneer, has, however, recently received a letter from A. H. Coit, of St. Louis, in which the writer says: "I knew Calvin F. S. Thomas, the printer. He came to Buffalo about 1836. He was a great musical man, and was a publisher; and in the stationery and paper business. During the war—1861 to 1865—he had Government contracts for wrapping-twine."

RAND, McNALLY & Co. have several novels in preparation for early publication. These are: "Sarchedon," by the late Geo. J. Whyte Melville, an Assyrian romance of the time of Semiramis; "Vae Victis," a novel dealing with the last days of Moorish rule in Spain, translated from the German of Paul Berkow; Paul Lindau's "Mr. and Mrs. Bewer," a story of modern life, translated from the German; and "Squaw Louise," the story of an Indian girl, in which Marah Ellis Ryan tells of Indian life on the Columbia River and relates the adventures of two ladies in a British Columbia mining camp.

H. J. SMITH & Co., 234 S. 8th Street, Philadelphia, will publish early in August a new work, entitled "The Quest of Columbus," a memorial heroic poem in twelve books, by the Rev. Henry Ilowizi, of Philadelphia. According to the author "'The Quest of Columbus' is intended to portray the almost superhuman endeavors of the world's greatest discoverer to realize his lofty goal, and his final triumph over well-nigh insurmountable difficulties. Interwoven with this forever memorable 'Quest' of 1492, are the other two remarkable events of the same year, which concern the three great creeds, the siege and the fall of Granada, and the expulsion of the Jews from Spain."

THE CENTURY Co. announce for fall publication several volumes which will be warmly welcomed by lovers of good fiction. Dr. S. Weir Mitchell's "Characteristics," which has made many friends during its course as a Century serial, and "The Chatelaine of La Trinité," Henry B. Fuller's charming story of Italian life, will be issued in October. In the same month a new volume of short stories by Mrs. Burton Harrison, entitled "Crow's Nest and Belhaven Tales," and a collection of Viola Roseboro's capital stories, to be called "Old Ways and New," will be forthcoming. A new five-volume edition of Frank Stockton's works is also announced. The autumn juveniles are: "Tom Paulding," by Brander Matthews, a boy's book, telling of a search for buried treasure in the streets of New York; "The Admiral's Caravan," by Charles E. Carryl, a delightful book of the "Alice in Wonderland" order; "A Book of Cheerful Cats and Other Animated Animals," a collection of J. G. Francis' amusing "cat pictures"; "Strange Corners of Our Country," in which Charles F. Lummis tells of some of the wonders of New Mexico, Arizona and other Western States; a new edition of "St. Nicholas Songs," and the bound volumes of St. Nicholas for 1892. Other publications will be: "Old Italian Masters," engravings by Timothy Cole, with letterpress by W. J. Stillman, the whole forming a gallery of the masterpieces of Italian art; "English Cathedrals," by Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer, illustrated by Joseph Pennell; "Play in Provence," in which Joseph and Elizabeth Pennell tell of their life in Provence, illustrated with clever sketches by Mr. Pennell; "Christian Science, Faith-Healing and Kindred Phenomena," a thoughtful presentation of this vexed subject by Rev. J. M. Buckley, editor of The Christian Advocate; "The Love of the World," religious meditations by Mary Emily Case; "Love in the Calendar," poems by Robert Underwood Johnson; and "Cheap Money Experiments in Past and Present Times," a collection of the admirable papers first published in The Century.

THE fourteenth congress of the International Literary and Artistic Association will begin at Milan on the 17th of September next. One of the chief subjects for discussion will be the changes that may be necessary in the Convention of Berne in view of a diplomatic conference on the subject which is to be held in Paris next year.

THE LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL have passed the plans of the forthcoming Papermakers, Printers, Stationers and Allied Traders' Exhibition and Market, to be held at the Royal Agricultural Hall, London, N., September 20 to October 1. It is anticipated that the forthcoming show will be fully representative of the vast interests concerned. Arrangements have been made for a fine exhibit of Christmas cards, etc.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Books for Exchange," the charge is 10 cents per line. No deduction for standing matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis, will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

A NEW AND TIMELY HANDBOOK.

A B C of the Swedish System of Educational Gymnastics.

By HARTVIG NISSEN,

Instructor of Physical Training in the Public Schools of Boston, Mass.; Instructor of Swedish and German Gymnastics at Harvard University's Summer School, 1891.; Author of "A Manual on Swedish Movement and Massage Treatment," etc.

A Practical Handbook for School-Teachers and the Home.

This handy volume is everywhere spoken of as the best book on the subject now in the market. All dealers near schools where Physical Training is given should have it in stock.

The fullest instructions and commands are given for each exercise, and seventy-seven excellent engravings illustrate them and add greatly to the practical value of the book. Small 12mo, 143 pages, extra flexible cloth, 75 cents, net.

A BOOK OF SURPASSING INTEREST IS

THE CHINESE:

Their Present and Future; Medical Political and Social.

By ROBERT COLTMAN, Jr., M.D.,

Surgeon in Charge of the Presbyterian Hospital and Dispensary at Teng Chow Fu.

The author has spent many years among the Chinese; lived with them in their dwellings; thoroughly learned the language; has become conversant with all their strange and odd characteristics to a greater extent than almost any other American. The simple, direct, straight-forward style in which Dr. Colman has written this book makes it entertaining and fascinating as well as profitable reading throughout.

The book is beautifully printed in large, clear type, and is illustrated with fifteen fine engravings from photographs of persons, places and objects characteristic of China. In one handsome royal octavo volume of 212 pages, appropriately bound in extra cloth, with Chinese side stamp, $1.75, net.

THE DAUGHTER:

Her Health, Education and Wedlock.

HOMELY SUGGESTIONS TO MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS CONCERNING CHILDHOOD, MAIDENHOOD, WIFEHOOD AND MOTHERHOOD.

By WILLIAM M. CAPP, M.D., Philadelphia.

This valuable little volume belongs to a most important class of books, and it is everywhere recognized as one of the very best. Beautifully printed, large, clear type, 12mo, 150 pages, handsomely bound in extra cloth, $1.00, net.

"A clear, practical and wholesome volume of hygienic suggestions, without prudery on the one hand, and without technical or unnecessary professional minuteness on the other. The author's purpose is high, and his achievement helpful."—The Sunday-School Times.

CONSUMPTION!

How to Prevent It and How to Live with It.

ITS NATURE, CAUSES, PREVENTION, AND THE MODE OF LIFE, CLIMATE, EXERCISE, FOOD AND CLOTHING, NECESSARY FOR ITS CURE.

By N. S. DAVIS, Jr., A.M., M.D.,

Professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine in Chicago Medical College, etc., etc.

A plain, practical treatise, thoroughly readable and scientifically accurate. 12mo, 143 pages, extra cloth, 75 cents, net.

THE ST. LOUIS WEEKLY MEDICAL REVIEW says: "He is very thorough in his discussion of the subject, and the practical hints which he gives are of real worth and value. His directions are given in such a manner as to make life enjoyable to a consumptive patient and not a burden, as is too frequently the case."

THE F. A. DAVIS CO., Publishers, 1231 Filbert Street, Philadelphia.
